RE: Letter of endorsement for Project Team “Aging at Home, Seniors Cooperative”, Pouch Cove, NL

To whom it may concern,

The Lions Club International mission includes efforts to empower Lions clubs, volunteers, and partners to improve health and well-being and strengthen communities. The Pouch Cove Lions Club continues to do this since its charter in 1982 and recognizes the importance of community building through service, support, and collaboration.

The Aging at Home projects aims, that of supporting older adults to successfully “age in their homes and communities” in Pouch Cove as well as its neighboring communities aligns with the service activities that the Lions Club do as well as the Lions Club International purpose and ethics. Lions promote the principles of good government and good citizenship; Lions take an active interest in the civic, cultural, social, and moral welfare of the community; and Lions provide a forum for the open discussion of all matters of public interest. It is for these reasons that the Pouch Cove Lions Club fully endorses the efforts of Thomas Mengel and the Aging at Home project team in its efforts to form and implement a Seniors Cooperative.

While we can not at this time commit resources directly to the project itself, much of our service activities support the older adults in Pouch Cove and neighboring communities. We look forward to ongoing communication and collaboration with the Seniors Cooperative as we continue to serve our communities.

Sincerely,
